

JEWELRY WATCHES

STERLING SILVER
PEARLS
PRECIOUS STONES
STATIONERY
SILVER PLATE

REED & BARTON
ESTABLISHED 1824
THEODORE B. STARR, INC.
ESTABLISHED 1892
FIFTH AVENUE AT 47th STREET
4 MAIDEN LANE
NEW YORK

DEAD MEN TELL NO TALES

Cuticura Soothes Rashes Of Infancy And Childhood

When little ones are sleepless, fretful and cross because of distressing irritations, mothers should know that Cuticura will quickly soothe and in most cases help heal. Rub the affected part with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and gently apply Cuticura Ointment.

Sample Book Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories," Dept. 40, Malden, Mass. "Sold everywhere." Soap, Ointment and Cream, 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

GO AFTER THAT SKIN TROUBLE WITH POSLAM

If any unsightly eruption is showing in your skin decide right now that you have tolerated it long enough. Take prompt steps toward its removal by the use of a little Poslam.

Poslam, the concentrated healing remedy, is made to render quick and dependable help to every man, woman and child who suffers from pimples, eczema, rash, redness, itching and other greivous skin troubles. At once it soothes, cools and comforts. Makes the work of healing eczema unusually short and pleasant.

Sold everywhere. For free sample write to: Emergency Laboratories, 243 West 47th St., New York City—Add.

Rely on Cuticura To Clear Away Skin Troubles

"The sources of supply pointed out by this New York Herald can be greatly reduced by the Federal Government."

ARRESTS BREAK NEWARK BOOZE ROUTE TO N. Y.

Forty-two 'Traders' Corralled in Raid on Whiskey 'Curb Market.'

RING LEADERS TAKEN

Federal Agents in Manhattan and Brooklyn Descend on Eighteen Wet Spots.

LARGE SEIZURES RESULT

Wayne B. Wheeler Again Charges Law Enforcement of Dry Law.

Forty-two arrests were made by the Newark police in a raid yesterday on the whiskey "curb market" in the warehouse district of that city. The police said they had captured the ring-leaders of the professional booze traders engaged in selling certificates and organizing holdups.

New York is supposed to receive a considerable portion of its daily draught of liquor through the underground route from Newark.

Federal rum raiders in Manhattan and Brooklyn rounded up eighteen alleged illicit drinking places and seized quantities of liquor. The largest haul in the city yesterday was in a raid on a cafe in Amsterdam avenue, where more than 100 gallons of hard liquor were taken.

Thirty policemen, led by Michael T. Long, chief of police, closed in on the Newark "curb market." They blocked the streets leading to the market and with clubs in hand made prisoners of all in the market vicinity. The prisoners were charged with loitering and held on technical counts to answer in the Washington street police court to-morrow.

First Concerted Effort.

The raid was the first concerted effort of the New Jersey authorities to break up a liquor ring which has been making much trouble. There was little disorder. Several men tried to break through the police lines, but were held. Others jumped into automobiles and escaped.

The "curb market" has been active for almost six months, and the average attendance of traders has been nearly 100. Quantities of whiskey are stored in big warehouses within sight of the street market. The trading consisted in the sale of certificates calling for the release of whiskey from bond, the transactions being carried on in much the same way stock securities are bought and sold on the regular curb. The whiskey transactions are believed to run into large sums. The police think that bands of highwaymen have made a business of loitering near the curb to learn when truckloads of liquor were to be moved, and the frequency of recent holdups led the police to take action.

In the Amsterdam avenue raid the Federal agents seized eighty gallons of port wine, forty half gallon bottles of sherry and fifteen quarts of whiskey. The alleged owner was arrested, charged with illegal possession of liquor. The booze was found in a secret compartment. Several other raids in Brooklyn netted smaller amounts of stored liquor.

Raid in Brooklyn.

Liquor valued at more than $5,000 was taken in the Brooklyn raids. The largest hauls were made in saloons at Evergreen avenue and Halsey street and at No. 145 Ralph avenue, both owned formerly by H. J. Bauer. The owner of the property notified the officials he believed liquor was stored in the premises. Whiskey, champagne and assorted drinks were found.

In the Evergreen avenue place the agents charged they found alcohol, coloring material and fake revenue stamps. Bauer had moved away recently. The booze was found in a secret compartment. Several other raids in Brooklyn netted smaller amounts of stored liquor.

Commenting on this New York Herald's yesterday printed statement showing the practical operation of the whiskey trade after eight months of Federal prohibition, Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, issued the following statement:

"The charge in this New York Herald of Tuesday that there are 5,000 wet spots in New York where liquor is being sold in violation of the law, but the amount of liquor that is sold in the city has been tremendously reduced since prohibition went into effect. New York will not get the full benefit of the prohibition law until she enacts a State law enforcement code."

Courses of Action Outlined.

"The sources of supply pointed out by this New York Herald can be greatly reduced by the Federal Government."

Another $1,000 Penalty for Dry Law Violators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Persons who violate State prohibition laws by manufacturing or selling either fermented or distilled intoxicating liquors are liable upon conviction not only for the fine and penalty levied by the court but must also pay the Federal Government $1,000 as a special tax. Internal Revenue Commissioner Williams instructed prohibition agents and internal revenue collectors to-night that a provision of the revenue laws of 1918 imposing the tax was still in effect and directed them to carry it out.

"The tax imposed is in addition to all other taxes and penalties and should be promptly assessed and collected," the statement added.

fusing the renewal of wholesale permits. There is no authority for them in the Volstead Act. "The smuggled whiskey from Canada could be stopped if the Customs Department would co-operate with the Internal Revenue Department in enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment. The moonshine whiskey trade could be stopped if local officers would do their duty and enforce the State revenue laws."

The Federal Grand Jury in Brooklyn decided yesterday to drop the investigation of charges that the Volstead law had been violated openly in the presence of Mayor Hylan at a dinner given the night Villipic's Inn at Sheephead Bay closed for the season. No further testimony will be taken and no presentment made. The jury did not find evidence of an "orgy."

M'MULLIN'S JURY GETS JUDGE'S CHARGE TO-DAY

Prohibition Agent's Murder Trial Nearly Ended.

A jury in the United States District Court will decide to-day whether Stewart N. McMullin, prohibition enforcement agent, was guilty of wilful murder when he shot and killed Harry Carlton, a chauffeur, in a prohibition raid at 234 East Seventy-sixth street on March 11.

Both sides summed up yesterday after Judge Julius M. Mayer had reserved decision on the application of United States District Attorney Francis G. Caffery to instruct the jury to acquit the defendant, Senator James J. Walker, for the defense said Carlton could not have been shot in the manner described by Melvin Carroll, chief witness for the State, because of the direction taken by the bullet. He urged the jury not to hold McMullin's previous prison record against him.

Both sides summed up yesterday after Judge Julius M. Mayer had reserved decision on the application of United States District Attorney Francis G. Caffery to instruct the jury to acquit the defendant, Senator James J. Walker, for the defense said Carlton could not have been shot in the manner described by Melvin Carroll, chief witness for the State, because of the direction taken by the bullet. He urged the jury not to hold McMullin's previous prison record against him.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

SEEK WOMAN FRIEND OF BANK RUNNER

New Jersey Police Looking for David S. Paul's Casual Acquaintances.

AUTOMOBILE MAN'S CLUES

Frank James, Last to See Messenger Alive, Gives Valuable Hints.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 19.—Frank James, an automobile salesman of Camden, is being detained by the Camden authorities in connection with the investigation into the murder of David S. Paul, a bank messenger whose body was found buried in the Jersey pines. James is the last man known by the police to have seen Paul alive, and is known to have driven him to the Camden ferry on October 5, the day the messenger disappeared.

Prosecutor Wolverson said to-night that James had given him valuable information regarding Paul. The prosecutor also announced that Detective Ellis Parker of Burlington, N. J., while searching the scene of the burial of the murdered messenger, found a small stained strip of upholstery tape which appeared to have been torn from an automobile seat. It was found near the grave in which Paul's body was discovered, and the authorities consider it one of the most important pieces of evidence yet unearthed.

On the afternoon of October 5, the day Paul disappeared, James informed the authorities he drove the bank messenger to the Federal Street ferry, Camden, Paul being on his way to the Girard Trust Company, in Philadelphia, with $40,000 in cash and $20,000 in checks from the Broadway Trust Company, Camden. On the way to the ferry Paul showed James a bandaged wrist. The bandage, he explained, was put on by one of the bank clerks in the Camden bank. Then, he further explained, that in order to "right" himself with two Philadelphia women, whom he had broken an engagement for a trip to Allentown, he had planned to see one of them and displaying his bandaged wrist, make a plea that his "injury" had been the cause of his not keeping the engagement.

Paul wanted James to drive him to Philadelphia and the two make "dates" with the first woman and another who had been with her at the Mount Holly Fair. James said that he refused to have anything to do with them, and after leaving Paul at the ferry house he had not seen him since.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

When Paul's body was unearthed Saturday the bandage was still on his wrist. This led the officials to believe that Paul met the women and that he must have remained with them during the next eleven days or that they must have been in constant communication with him, which would explain why Paul should keep the bandage on for that length of time.

BANKERS DISCUSS U. S. TAX REVISION

Financial Relief of Farming Interests Also Stressed at Convention.

MEREDITH IS SPEAKER